

Talent Development in Ireland

Government commitment to Lifelong Learning:

Over €1bn exchequer spend annually to provide and significantly subsidise upskilling and reskilling programmes and initiatives.

Responsive and agile national talent development ecosystem:

Collaboration between industry and national education agencies and institutions to co-design industry focused training programmes.

Broad range of training options:

Flexible programme delivery providing qualifications from certificate to MSc, including modular and micro-credential options.

MICRO CREDS

Accredited, modular and stackable micro-credentials. Co-created by Irish Universities and enterprise.

Regional Skills Partnerships for Skills

9 Regional Skills Fora across the country, bringing employers and educators together to meet emerging skills needs.

Partnering with 57 industry bodies. Delivering training to 22,500 companies
Training 40% state subsidised
BioPharma - ICT - Robotics
Engineering - Industry 4.0 Global Business Services and more....

SOLAS learning works

Further education and training fully funded through the National Training Fund. Equipping employees with skills for the future of work.
Green skills - Digital skills - Leadership & Management

State initiative offering heavily subsidised (up to 90%) cert, degree and MSc courses in critical skills areas.

Contact your IDA Account Manager for further details on upskilling and reskilling options and IDA supports.